St. Paul, 11,900; Tennessee Coal and Iron, There was a decided contraction in the volume of business on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday, but the tone of the limited speculation was firm throughout. The influences bearing on prices were rather conflicting, but were in the main encouraging to the owners and holders of securities. London prices for Americans came irregular, but moderate purchases for foreign account were executed in the New York market, and this fact served to offset the early announcement that $1,500,000 in gold would be exported to-day to Germany. No appreciable change has been noted in either the rates for money or commercial paper. The sterling exchange market exhibited a sagging tendency and the declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 1 per cent on Burlington contributed to firm up the railway list and the grangers in particular. The trading element was af-feoted sentimentally by more cheerful crop advices, and bid up price whenever practi-cable, though without taking any note-worthy lines of stock. A general evening up movement by shorts was also noted, which was more clearly reflected in Sugar, Leather preferred. Tobacco and Louisville & Nashville. A few weak spots developed as the day progressed, but the depression did not influence the general market, and recov-Gas, after an early drop of 1½ per cent, railled 2½ per cent. Tennessee Coal closed unon the day, after an early decline of 1% per cent from the top figure. The filng of a demurrer in the proceedings against he Tobacco management imparted steadi-less to the stock, and inspired a covering lemand, as a result of which an early decline of a point was fully recovered. The nore conservative stand taken by the Ger-Reichstag on the sugar bounty bill strengthened American Sugar stock. A Tangled Rope Lost Him a Great Victory at the State Convention.

Visitors to the State convention last week noticed a large picture of General Harrison glide down from the ceiling over the chairman's seat along late in the day. It was greeted with a cheer and the convention went on about its business of nominating a Governor, the question of instructions and delegates at large having been long before disposed of. Thereby hangs a tale, and if "Col. Bill" Holloway and "Captain Jack" Gowdy had only known how near their McKinley boom came to being eternally knocked out by the Dreadful Machinations Groceries.

Of no less a genius than "Col." William Sugars—City prices—Cut loaf, 6.24c; dominoes, 6.11c; crushed, 6.24c; XXXX powdered.

Of no less a genius than "Col." William but steady; No. 2, 24%@25c. Options quiet, but steady, closing partially 1/3c net higher.

May, 24%@24%c, closed at 24%c. ing Harrison buttons at a great and profitable rate, and he felt personally outraged when the friends of General Harrison declined to fight instructions. Colonel Beach conceived a great scheme. He would fight them himself. He could not control any votes in the convention by the brutal force of command, but many a fight before this had been won by strategy, and to strategy Colonel Beach determined to resort. conceived a Great Scheme. He kept it strictly to himself. He succeeded in raising about $40 or $50 by telling his friends that he had the greatest thing on earth and inducing them to contribute to a sort blind pool. He hunted up an artist on the South Side and had an enormous picture of General Harrison made. Then he succeeded in getting the good will of the custodian of Tomlinson Hall and got access to the chicken loft of the great structure. There he sawed a board out of the ceiling just long enough to let the picture slide through and by means of a complicated system of rigging, fixed it in such shape that by pulling the string he could drop it down over the chairman's table. Colonel Beach hired an assis ant and took two newspaper men to the bosom of his confidence. All through the weary hours of the night before the convention he and his assistant wrought manfully in the chicken loft. The next day when Colonel Thon arose to address the convention Colonel Beach was lying alone in the loft with his left eye screwed tightly to an auger hole chairman. There he waited, and time dragged by with leaden feet, while Uncle Dick babbled and talked on in his reminiscent address. "I shall only name one candidate for the presidency," said he, to-wards the close of his address, "and his name is McKinley." The cold chills ran down Colonel Beach's back. Harrison's name was not to be mentioned, and there uld come out and beat out his inge a bunch of telephone wires and came near which bore directly upon the venerable was to be no opportunity to spring the great scheme on the convention. Finally, however, Colonel Thompson mentioned the magic name of Harrison, Colonel Beach jerked the string and ran as if his life dended on his getting out of the chicken oft before the great host of McKinleyites brain. In his mad flight he stumbled into plunging through the ceiling upon the as-sembled convention. He heard no uproar from below. Something must be wrong. He looked and horrors of horrors!

The blamed thing had failed to work Colonel Beach ran back and shook his rigging frantically, but it would not budge, and he finally became frightened at ap-proaching footsteps and fied. Three or four nours later, after the convention had forgotten all about the presidential question, Colonel Beach succeeded in getting his rigging in shape and the big picture of Harrison glided majestically down into view and was greeted with applause by the convendoderate Activity in All the Markets. with the Tendency Lower-Provisions Made Declines.

CHICAGO, May 13 .- Reports of damage by insects on one side and refreshing rains on the other kept the wheat nervous to-day. The market in the end closed steady, but %c below yesterday. Corn and oats were rather weak on account of the rains, and there was a slight decline in provisions.

The many damage claims from the various sections at the start and some little uneasinesss displayed, owing to certain houses being made irregular, caused the firm tone in wheat at the start, but later it was announced that the grain in the houses mentioned would be transferred to regular houses at the expense of the proprietor of the houses recently made irregular. Increased selling soon set in, which carried prices down, the routine news being rather bearish. The different cables, rains in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Nebraska and liberal Northwestern receipts had a weakening tendency. The prediction by the signal service of more rains West and clear and cooler conditions in the Northwest also had a depressing influence. The range for the day was 1%c.

Moderate speculative activity was noted in developed at the start was steadier, after which a weaker tone was displayed, final figures showing %0½c loss. The action of wheat, together with the fine weather and slow cash demand, were the prime factors responsible for the decline. The feature to the trade was the renewed and active selling of July and September by profes-sionals and parties with shipping and ele-vator interests, the buying being scattered and chiefly to cover shorts.

There was a good trade in oats and an easier feeling. The buying was by large professionals who were short. The selling was scattered, but proved of sufficient volume to fill up the buyers, and prices receded 14@3cc dling, 7 9-16c. ALBERT KINCHLOW TRIED FOR SHOOTING HIS MOTHER.

Mrs. Knapp's Marriage Annulled-Will of L. S. Ayres-Other News from the Courts.

Albert Kinchlow, the young colored man who shot his mother in the side, cut his sister with a hatchet and then sent a bullet into his own body, was put on trial in the Criminal Court yesterday morning. The jury took charge of the case at 6 'o'clock yesterday evening and remained out over night. The affray happened last March, all of the injured people recovering. The day of the shooting Kinchlow and his sister got into an argument at the dinner table. He struck the girl with a hatchet, and, on the advice of her mother, she went to call the police.

Kinchlow's brother-in-law got him to go to his room, but he did not remain there, and when he appeared again he had a revolver in his hand. He fired two shots at his mother, one of the bullets taking effect in her side. He then shot himself three times in the breast. One of the bullets passed close to the heart, and it was thought the wounded man could not survive. He was taken to the City Hospital, where he remained for several days, and when able to be removed was put under arrest. His mother and sister both testified against him yesterday. The sister said he had threatened, while suffering from his wounds, to get even with his mother if he ever got Kinchlow has but one leg. He lost the other while stealing a ride on a freight train near Kankakee, Ill. He told the court he had been away at work and was on his way home with $10 in his pocket. He wanted to bring this money to his mother and thought to save it by boarding a freight money to a colored man at Kankakee to bring to his mother, but she never got it. It is said that some time ago Kinchlow secured a revolver and threatened to go to New Albany and kill his aunt. At the time of the shooting, he said, he had been brooding over the loss of his leg.

CAR COMPANY RESTRAINED.

Must Not String Certain Wires at Il linois and Seventh Street. Judge Bartholomew, of Room 2, Superior Court, yesterday granted an injunction against the Citizens' Street-railroad Company on the application of Frances and Elizabeth Garber, the owners of a two-story brick building at the corner of Illinois and Seventh streets. The street-car company last week erected an iron pole in front of the plaintiff's property, and, as alleged, were preparing to string wires on the pole. The plaintiffs contended that the presence of these wires would be a great annoyance to them. The injunction was made temporary until the merits of the complaint can be passed upon by the

Will of L. S. Ayres.

The will of the late Lyman S. Ayres, executed May 29, 1830, with Charles H. Sherman, H. B. Scott and James G. Thomas as witnesses, was probated in the Circut Court | Street-railroad Company; suit for injunovesterday. Mr. Ayres bequeathed his entire | tion. Superior Court, Room 2. yesterday. Mr. Ayres bequeathed his entire estate to his wife, Maria H. Ayres, to be used by her as she may deem best. The will named Mrs. Ayres as the executrix without bond, but she resigned the trust in favor of her son, Fred M. Ayres. The latter filed a bond as executor yesterday in the sum of $600,000. The will of Mahala Newhouse Lawrence was probated yesterday. The will bequeathed $200 to Jennie M. Roney for caring for the testatrix. In the event that the former did not desire to undertake this task the money was to go to those who did. William B. Flick was appointed executor.

Did Not Apply to Him. Arthur Newby, the defendant in a suit brought by Clara D. Newby, based on the fraudulent-marriage act passed by the last Legislature, was released from jail yesterday, Judge Brown, before whom the case was pending, finding that the defendant could not be legally held. Newby became the husband of the plaintiff to avoid tion of the new law, deserted his wife im mediately after their marriage. After his place before the legislative measure covering fraudulent marriages became a law. Judge Brown investigated the case and found this to be true.

Saloon Keepers Hit Hard. John Gassaway, proprietor of a saloen at Oklahoma, was fined $50 and costs in the Criminal Court yesterday for violating the liquor ordinance. There were two cases against him. Gassaway was before the court a year ago and on his promise to move away from Oklahoma the court assessed a light fine. Gassaway did move, but located again within one hundred feet of his former saloon. When he came up yesterday he want-ed to "make an arrangement" with the court, but Judge McCray declined to enter into negotiations. Gassaway then demanded a change of venue, which was granted. Attorney Harry Milligan tried the case.

Bruning Case by Default. The suit of William H. Bruning against ed by the defendant, was disposed of yesterday in the United States Court. When the case was called it was found there was to be no defense and Judge Baker instructed the jury to find for Bruning. The amount of the judgment taken against Mrs. Copeland was $4.998.26. The Bruning-Copeland litiga-tion over real estate located at Madison and Evansville has been remanded to the State

The Kidnaping Case. The cases against Henry Osborn and Mamie Quinette, charged with kidnaping the Wilson children, did not come up in the Criminal Court yesterday on account of the inability of the plaintiff's attorney to be present. John S. Duncan will defend Oaborn and Smiley N. Chambers has been retained by the Quinette woman.
